2 MEN ABDUCT SCION OF RICH DENVER FAMILY

Charles Boettcher, Friend of Lindbergh, Held for $60,000 Ransom

SEIZED ON RETURN FROM HOTEL PARTY

Family, In Note, Reminded of Lindbergh Baby Tragedy

(By Associated Press)
DENVER, Colo., Feb. 13.—A scion of a wealthy, pioneer family, Charles Boettcher, II, today was held by kidnapers for a purported $60,000 ransom.

Two masked men, accosting the 31-year old heir to a fortune and his wife at the garage as they returned from a party at midnight, herded them into an upstairs room of their home, remained several minutes, handed the wife a ransom note and departed with Boet-tcher in a motorcar.

Friend of Lindbergh

Detectives and police who swarmed to the home and then started a search for Boettcher, a friend of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, announced they were told a watchman on the grounds had been informed of the kidnapping shortly after it happened but that after an investigation he decided nothing was amiss.

Police said the watchman, whom they identified only as Stephens, received his information from a cook in a neighboring home, who related to detectives she and a man friend were stopped by a motorist who said he feared a robbery or a kidnaping was taking place.

Investigators said the men, both armed, said to Mrs. Boettcher when she was handed the ransom demand: "Give this to Claude" and don't read it. He'll know what to do. "Claude" is Boettcher's father, Claude G. Boettcher.

Mrs. Boettcher, police said, rushed into the house and read the note.
Its exact contents were not revealed.
The victim's father, offered a reward of $5,000 for the safe return of his son.

Gets Description

Police announced a description of one of the men was obtained from Mrs. Boettcher. She said the man was apparently an American, about 42 years old and about five feet, seven inches tall. He weighed between 150 and 160 pounds. He was stout, of a sandy complexion and was smooth shaven. Mrs. Boettcher said she noticed his peculiar round eyes. The man wore a sand-colored tweed coat and a cap. Both men wore handkerchief masks.

Mrs. Boettcher, who, friends said, is about to become a mother for a second time, was guarded at the home by police who refused to allow anyone to see her. The Boettchers have one child, Anna Lou, five years old.

Boettcher, an aviation enthusiast, was host to Colonel Lindbergh on his last visit to Denver. He is grandson of Charles Boettcher, who founded the sugar and cement industries in Colorado and who built the first stockyards in Denver.

Heads Investment Brokers

The kidnapping victim returned yesterday by air from Kansas City and had attended a party with Mrs.
Boettcher at a downtown hotel.
They had returned home when the abductors accosted them.

Boettcher is president of Boet-

Compares Crime

Judge Mary M. Bartelme of the juvenile court of Cook county at Chicago, who plans to retire in June, Judge Bartelme, in announcing her plan to retire, stated that modern juvenile criminals are brought to court for crimes of far greater seriousness than those of youthful offenders 20 years ago.
Twenty years ago boys and girls were brought into court for comparatively mild offenses such as breaking windows and the theft of apples. Today the charges range from strong-arming, pocketbook snatching, and holdups all the way to an occasional murder charge.

40 BOY SCOUTS HEAR REV. EVANS

Christian Pastor Reminds Youthful Audience of Lincoln

Approximately 40 Salem Boy Scouts attended the Sunday morning service at the Christian church.
This is annual Boy Scout week and the scouts observed Sunday by attending church together.

Rev. C. F. Evans, the pastor, based his sermon on St. Paul's words "Test all things; hold fast that which is good."

The speaker applied this text in two ways in the realm of intellect and in conduct.

Urges Faith in God
"It is very important to keep one's faith in God," the pastor said.

"The Scout Law includes reverence. That is not just a requirement handed down by elders. It is something very good to hold fast.

"The idea of God is being assailed in our day. It has been given up by many people. But the fact of God has not been disproved. There have been many manifestations in the processes of nature which indicate some great Mind back of the universe. The greatest scientists have accepted God. It is equally evident that a God who provides and plans for the natural processes has also provided for human life.
We need to cooperate with God in order that we may live well.

"So, too, there are fundamental

Former Instructor Heads Ceramic Unit

(By Associated Press) PITTSBURGH, Feb. 12.—A former chemistry professor is the new president of the American Ceramic society.

John Clyde Hostetter of Corning, N. Y., who once taught at Bucknell university, was chosen head of the society in a mail vote held in advance of its convention opening today. He succeeds Emerson P. Post of Chattanooga, Tenn.

The new vice-president is Louis J. Trostel of Baltimore. H. B. Henderson, of Columbus, O., was re-elected treasurer and Victor V.
Kelley, of Trenton, N. J., remained trustee of materials and equipment.

Robert B. Keplinger of Canton, O., represents the structural clay products division as trustee; C. L.
Sebring of Sebring, O., the art division, and J. M. McKinley of Cleveland the refractories division.

Halt Foreclosures In Nebraska Edict

(By Associated Press)
LINCOLN, Neb., Feb. 13.—Governor Charles W. Bryan today issued an "emergency" proclamation calling upon farm and home mortgage holders to suspend all foreclosures until the state board of conciliation, the legislature and congress, could act.

CONTROL BOARD STILL SILENT ON POLICE JOB

Appointment Scheduled,
According to Kerr,
Before Feb. 15

GEORGE E. EARLEY RETURNS TO WORK

Peppel, Veon and Hassey Now Constitute Eligible List

The appointment of a new member of the police force to fill the vacancy created by the advancement of Ralph Stoffer to the post of chief is scheduled within the next 36 hours, according to an announcement which Safety Director John R. Kerr made some time ago.

But the control board of which Kerr is a member, continued its silence today, so far as the appointment was concerned, although reports have it that the nominee was selected last week.

In the meantime, George E.
Earley, temporary patrolman, resumed duties Sunday night after a leave of absence following the death of his mother and will continue working until the new appointment takes effect.

Three men, Jesse R. Peppel, Hormer Veon and James Hassey are eligible for the appointment, having been certified to Kerr by the civil service commission.

Veon is reported to have been granted the appointment informally at a board of control meeting nine days ago, prior to his being certified as eligible by the civil service unit. Safety Director Kerr claims that no appointment has been made.

Gangster Nabbed After Holdup In Massillon Fails

(By Associated Press)
CANTON, Feb. 13.—Frank Gaet-tano, 23, sought for more than a year as a member of the Frank Circine gang which robbed the Grove City National bank of $3,000, and staged a series of holdups in Columbus, was under arrest here today.

Gaetano was captured when he led a gang in an attempted robbery in Massillon's notorious Columbia Heights. The holdup victim, although covered by five saved-off shotguns, grabbed one of the guns and clubbed Gaetano into unconsciousness as his accomplices fled.

Police were called to the scene later.
Columbus detectives were reported enroute here this morning to return Gaetano to that city where he is under indictment in connection with the holdup.

The title-holder, for such he may well be termed, is a dirty, s'rat cat which, since last Wednesday, nonchalantly perched itself on a telephone pole on New Garden rd., defiantly defying sub-zero temperatures which kept humans home and close to the blazing fire.

Defying efforts of would-be rescuers who several times climbed the pole to return it to the ground, the cat stuck to its elevated perch day and night since last Wednesday. Youngsters of the neighborhood climbed the pole to bring him to terra firma but the cat snarled at them viciously, as if to say, "Seat, I've still several days to go for a record," and chased them away.

This morning Michael Heitman climbed the pole and the cat, apparently well pleased with himself and his mark of four days up in the air with the temperature at zero most of the time, gladly accepted his rescue offer, cuddled itself in Heitman's arms and was carried to the ground.

The pole where the "sitting" record, if it is such and the feline athlete probably claims it is, is located in front of the residence of Louis Vestie, New Garden rd., just outside Salem corporation limits.

BLAST KILLS 2 IN LIMA WOODS

One Held, 2 Others Are Sought In Mysterious Explosion

(By Associated Press)
LIMA, O., Feb. 13.—A terrific explosion in the wooded section at the southeast city limits, killed two men last night.

One was identified as Ted Hollar, 27, of Lima. A tentative identification of the other as Henry Sudek-atus of Toledo was proved erroneous when he walked into the central police station there this morning.

Sudekatus told police he loaned the car, found at the scene and identified as having been one he used, to Thomas (Whitey) Shannon, 58, several weeks ago. He said Shannon was well acquainted with Hollar.

Hollar, with a companion, police said, went together into the woods shortly after dark. They had been gone but a few moments when the explosion shook the wooded section and the residential districts adjoining it.

Authorities, seeking the cause of the blast, offered the theory the men might have attempted to move some explosive they had hidden in the woods.

Lima authorities were unable to establish the identity of the second victim. A torn piece of scalp, containing gray hair, led police to consider the dead man might have been Shannon.

Police here asked Toledo authorities to hold Sudekatus for questioning, and also requested that they arrest Thomas White and George Shannon, although they declined to state why the latter two were wanted.

Depot Rd. Couple Entertain 50 at Golden Wedding Party

Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Burt Reunite With Relatives, Friends in Fete at Grange Hall

All their children, grandchildren and one great grandchild participated in the festivities when Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Burt, of the Depot rd., who are well known in Salem and vicinity, celebrated the 50th anniversary of their wedding Sunday at the Salem grange hall. Depot rd.
Their children are Mrs. F. L. Vincent, Mrs. Charles W. Phillips and Mrs. James Gromley, all of them live south of the city. There are 20 grandchildren.

50 at Dinner

Approximately 50 relatives and close friends attended the dinner.
The table was made attractive with yellow candles. A white wedding cake was ornamented with a miniature "bride and groom" and yellow candles.

The assembly room in the hall, where the guests gathered after the meal was beautifully decorated with yellow bells and streamers.

Friends at the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Van R. Dunn, Salem, who were married on the same day as Mr. and Mrs. Burt, were and the same minister, Mrs. Elizabeth Kelley, Salem, and Mrs. Lydia Reeves and daughter, Juanita, Pidgeon rd.

In the afternoon the family kept "open house" and received their friends. Betty Gibbons, Salem, entertained with saxophone solos, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. L.
O. Gibbons.

Sarah Christina Post and Charles G. Burt were married on Feb. 15, 1883, at the bride's home, Ohio ave., by Dr. T. J. Lyle, of Salem who was a minister and physician.

25 Years at Present Home In early life Mr. Burt was a contractor. For a number of years he was employed by the Denning company. For 25 years Mr. and Mrs.
Burt have lived at their present home on the Depot st.

Burt is a charter member of Quaker City tent No. 144, Knights of Maccabees, and Mrs. Burt is a charter member of the Women's Benefit association. Both are members of Salem grange. Mrs. Burt is a member of Phillips church, south of Salem.

Among the gifts received by the honorees was a basket of yellow snapdragons, presented them by their grandchildren.

Cat Perches Four Days Atop Pole

Feline Athlete, Claiming New Title, Brought Down Today

Hungry and shivering from the past week's intense cold, Salem's championship "pole sitter" returned to the ground today.

The title-holder, for such he may well be termed, is a dirty, s'rat cat
which, since last Wednesday, nonchalantly perched itself on a tele-

Members of the auxiliary of Charles H. Carey post No. 56, American Legion, will hold an important business meeting at the Legion home, East State st., at 7:30 p. m.
Tuesday.

The business session will precede a gathering of Salem patriotic orders which will begin at 8 p. m., Mrs. W. W. Andrews, auxiliary president, announced today. The attendance of all members is urged.

Members of the Gold Star auxiliary, Women's Relief Corps, Sons of Union Veterans and Daughters of Union Veterans will be guests of the Legion unit at the patriotic gathering.

The program will be in charge of Mrs. Raymond Broomall.

"It's a Girl at Cochran's"— Marion Family Grows to 13

But This Ohio Family Is Organized—It Might Well Be Called "Cochran and Family, Inc."

(By Associated Press)
MARION, O., Feb. 13.—The stork made his thirteenth visit to the home of Mr. and Mrs. George W.
Cochran on their farm north of here the other day. It was a girl.
They called her Mary June.

Now, to all intent and purposes, it's "Mr. and Mrs. George W.
Cochran and thirteen children, Inc."

Organized down to a fine scale, each has his or her own duties and even the younger tots played a hand in the intensely interesting game of wrestling a living—and lik-

FIND HUSBAND'S BODY IN BATH TUB

Bodies of Youngsters Are Burned Beyond Recognition

(By Associated Press)
YOUNGSTOWN, O., Feb. 13.— Four persons lost their lives here early today in a fire at the home of Alexander Spraker, 42, whose body, clad in underwear, was found floating in a bath tub by firemen.

The dead, besides Spraker, were his wife, Mabel, 33, and their two children, Marilyn, 10 and Darwin, 6.

Firemen could not account for the fact that Spraker's body was in the bath tub unless he had taken the wrong door in fleeing through smoke. As against this possibility, however, they said the spot in the tub was turned on when they found the body.

The fire apparently had started in the children's bedroom. Their bodies were burned beyond recognition.

Neighbors said Spraker had been out of work for months and also had been ill for some time.

The Sprakers moved from Logan county to Niles several years ago, and had lived here for three years.

Nations' League Defied By Japan; Peace Moves End

(By Associated Press)
Japan informed the League of Nations today that it was adamant in its determination to preserve the Japanese-maintained government of Manchukuo in Manchuria. It was taken for granted by all officials that this meant the end of conciliation in the Manchurian dispute.

The League, which has drafted a recommendation that member nations refuse to recognize Manchukuo, had requested Japanese views on a proposal to discontinue that government.

Chinese dispatches said their forces resisting a Japanese offensive into Jehol province were hard pressed in the vicinity of the city of Chaoyang. Seven thousand Japanese troops were reported concentrating on the East Jehol battle-front.

ROGERS MINER SERIOUSLY HURT

Ben Gardner, 30, Caught Between Cutter and Mine Wall

Ben Gardner, 30, Rogers miner, is at the Salem City hospital, suffering from an injury to his left hip, sustained in a mine accident this morning.

According to reports, Gardner was working on a cutting machine, when it broke and he was caught and crushed between a part of the machine and the mine wall. Besides the injury to his hip he sustained an abdominal injury. While his condition is serious, he is expected to recover, hospital attendants said.

Charles Colell, 47, Salem, R. D., was the second accident victim taken to the hospital this morning.
Colell, employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad company, at one of the local crossings, was struck in the back by a piece of cable, which was accidentally broken. He will have to remain in the hospital a few days although he is not considered seriously injured.

Schaaf's Condition Continues Serious

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Ernie Schaaf is still in a serious condition in a hospital as a result of his fight with the giant Primo Carnera in Madison Square Garden Friday night.

Doctors have diagnosed his injury as an intra-cranial hemorrhage.
His left side is still paralyzed.

His mother, Mrs. Lucy Schaaf, and his manager, Johnny Buckley, visited him yesterday. Emerging from a coma momentarily, he was unable to talk, but recognized his mother's voice.

Garage In Lisbon Damaged by Fire

Fire caused by an over heated on economic conditions that will be given the senate finance committee, beginning this week, by many dozens of the most responsible leaders in the country. Indirectly, many others will be able to hear or read what the current examples of success in the American system have to say about ways and means of improving the system.One wonders what the net effect of all the words will be. It is assumed that the material thus gathered will be concentrated, catalogued and turned over to Mr.

Roosevelt as a sort of composite diagnosis prepared by a national brain trust. On its facts, his personal brain trust—the small group of men on whom he relies for reactions and advice from day to day —will pass judgment and, perhaps, recommend action.The idea of giving the practical men of business an opportunity to tell politicians what should be done to help the country is not new. They have been trying to do it for years, with indifferent success. It is easy enough to see what is wrong and relatively easy to decide what should be done. But politicians are the fellows who have to do it. The procedure falters when it reaches them.In faltering and in failure, they are given more blame than they deserve. The diagnosticians have given a decision that the patient is suffering from general debility with sustained traces of functional nervous affection. A building-up treatment should be applied at once. Injections should be made here and there. This and that should be cut out. No time must be wasted. Let what a Herculean labor constantly awaits the puzzled politician. And now, for reasons which he may be wondering about himself, his foremost critics have been invited to come to Washington where he can hear them better. Perhaps the current would be speedier if they were placed in congress and the politicians permitted to give testimony to the finance committee.

FIGURE EIGHTS

The late Calvin Coolidge didn't know how to play when he went to the White House. An amusing story is told of the enthusiasm which he showed for fishing, once its delights had been disclosed to him on a summer afternoon during his early days in the presidency. Subsequently, he became an ardent angler, revealing thereby a trait of character that never fails to have a strong appeal for the people.Remembering Mr. Coolidge, remembering a great many well-known men of the nation in business and government who are famous for their devotion to work, one wonders if it may not be, because they never have had a chance to learn to play. After all, it has been only a few years since the first hardy souls who dared to leave their desks early on summer afternoons to play golf. The interference of their later devotion—interference which helped to bring on the depression, some say—indicated a need for relaxation.In comparison with tentative attempts by this country's dependable elders to have a good time, consider King George, symbol of all that is sane and solid in the British empire. Sixty-seven years old, his health under constant scrutiny and millions of people hanging breathlessly on every word concerning his actions, the monarch went skating a few days ago. More than that, he went skating often. During a freezing period of several days, he was in the thick of the skating on an ornamental pond at Sandringham, where he has retired to avoid catching the influenza in London.To speak the truth, the thought of President Hoover or Chief Justice Hughes or even Vice President Curtis on skates is a little too funny. That's the tragedy of it. The reigning descendant of long lines of royalty can go skating on an ornamental pond and get away with it. A man of the people, elevated by the people to power and under obligation to maintain a democratic viewpoint, has more dignity to be jealous of than a British king.
Something is wrong somewhere.

Editorial Quips

A critic of Technocracy says that you can't milk a cow with a monkey-wrench, but it must be admitted that you can come mighty near it when by turning a switch, you can start a machine that milks a barrel of cows.—Boston Transcript."When the world gets out of this depression, there will be such joy that a new great poetry will spring up." So says John Masefield. In other words, Poetry and Prosperity wait hand in hand, just around the corner.—Boston Transcript.What Gandhi needs is a thick steak, some mashed potatoes and gravy, hot biscuits, some baked beans with tomato sauce, and a large wedge of apple pie a la mode.
—Indianapolis News.It rains on the just and the unjust alike and as many cars freeze up in front of churches as speak-castles.—Ohio State Journal.

What Others Say

MIDDLE-AGED AND OLDER WORKERS IN INDUSTRY
The Association des Industriels de France recently published in the Paris press an article to the effect that some firms claimed that men over forty years of age could not be employed because of technical and other reasons.The directors of the association advanced the following reasons for the employment or retention of older workers in preference to new men: Mental and physical abilities are more important than age; middle-aged and older workers are more efficient and experienced; middle-aged and older workers are steadier and reduce labor turnover; middle-aged and older workers are less liable to injure themselves; lack of speed of middle-aged and older workers is offset by other qualities; middle-aged and older workers are more faithful and reliable.The directors further called attention to the fact that middle-aged and older workers are more apt to "take their work seriously, to think of the job in hand, and to study and solve the various problems that may arise during the course of their work.—Industry and Labor.

(Issue of Feb. 13, 1913.) Salem is an acknowledged pioneer in the state in many health movements, according to the local health officer who recently attended the state health board meeting at Columbus.Resumption of the Grafton furnaces at Leetonia is probable. The plant is known as the Salem Iron works, and W. D. McKeefer, principal owner, admits the property may be improved and a steel mill erected on a plot adjoining. Such an enterprise will prove a boom to Leetonia.Columbus—War department of-

The Stars Say:

For Tuesday, February 14
The astral operations of this day both by lunar and mutual aspect point to an extremely rapid unfold-ment of current affairs both business and private. It might be that things would be accelerated to such a degree as to be cyclonic, but with small element of the disastrous and much of promises accumulation and advancement all along the line. It is a time for action, but be careful with litigation. Social business accompanies the other activities and much solid gain is shown in prestige and pleasure.If It is Your Birthday Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a splendid year, with much activity in both business and the personal life. There will be much to stabilize the fortunes through real possessions, business, writings, promotion, etc., with much to be gained by aggressive action as well as from assistance of those in power. A child born on this day should be brilliant, versatile in so many ways that it may have many choices of success with better chances if it could be induced to "stay put" awhile.
Notable nati: W. Winfield Scott Hancock, U. S. army general.

"Kingfish" at Listening End

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Diary of a modern Pepsy: Lay late, and came a despairing note from the clown, Bluch Landorf, about the plight of many of the circus folk.
So, the goodish breakfast of cakes made from Ted Woodyard's water-ground buckwheat. And Earl Carroll, dropped in a moment.Working, with a feeling life has become too carefully paroled, and went before my wife with a profor later she looked in to inquire archly: "Are life's webs still strangling?"

pecial. And at 4 a. m., a spitting of snow, and I sat pleasantly thoughtful at a window until the sky turned pink.Predominance of stripes and stage juvenile. Anyway, there is gallantry and mental buoyancy in presages a world in upswing.From an editorial: "No one has

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland
New York CitySound Sleep Essential To Health How many hours of sleep should I have? That is a question I am often asked. There can be no set answer. It all depends on certain factors, such as heredity, age, occupation and the general physical condition.Under normal circumstances, most well-nourshed and healthy individuals require six to eight hours of sleep.
Some seem to require more sleep, while others get along with very much less.Sleep is more essential to life than food. We can get along without sleep for a certain number of hours, but cannot exist for an indefinite time without it.During sleep the fatigued cells of the body have a chance to rest.
They have their strength renewed.
Proper growth and development of the body are impossible without sufficient sleep. It is for this reason that the infant and growing child require more sleep than the adult.Children should never be permitted to stay up late. Late hours are a handicap to proper physical and mental development.Late Hours Harmful Of course the same advice applies to adults. Unfortunately, too many adults keep late hours. This is a mistake because many minor ailments can be traced to a lack of sleep. Late hours or too little sleep places a severe strain upon the human system. Such a practice, habitually followed, is detrimental to health, and lowers the resistance of the body to infectious diseases.Sleep restores the energy and strength of the body. It replaces what is used during the day. Restful sleep is a tonic the body requires to continue its work. But sleep is only beneficial when it is sound and restful.Let me warn you against the dangers of irregular sleeping hours and inability to sleep. Altogether too many persons suffer from insomnia, failure to sleep.
In many instances this can be traced to neglect or lack of sleepIn youth Good sleeping habits can be and should be taught in early childhood.Whatever its cause, insomnia is a dreaded and often difficult trouble to overcome. It may result from fear, worry, mental and severe emotional strain.A long walk taken before bedtime helps insure a good night's rest. Do not eat heavy food before bedtime.
If you have difficulty in falling asleep, drink a glass of warm milk or other warm beverage.Make sure the windows of your bedroom are wide open and that you have sufficient blankets. A warm bath taken just before retiring is soothing, relaxing and often induces sleep.Answers to Health Queries

"THE LOVE TRAP"

by ROBERT TERRY SHANNON

COPYRIGHT BY KING FEATURES SYNDICATE, INC.

SYNOPSIS

Shortly after her mother's death, Mary Kennedy, a young and pretty stenographer, decides to live her own life and avoid the poverty she has always known. She rents a small room and then seeks a position. Mary meets Buck Landers, elderly sports promoter, who proposes to her. She does not love Landers, but his wealth attracts her.

Without waiting for Mary's decision Landers presents her with a diamond ring. He threatens anyone who comes between them.

Mary meets Landers' ward, Steve Moore, young college graduate.

CHAPTER IX

"How do you do?" the young man said to Mary, gazing at her with a raptness that indicated that he, too, was feeling something of the same exhilaration that was affecting her.

For several seconds, it seemed they had both forgotten the presence of Buck Landers. Some natural spark, appropriate to their youth, had leaped the gap between them. Immediately there was the swift telepathy of reciprocal attraction.

The only thing about Steve Moore that Mary realized were his clear gray eyes; she did not observe that he was near six feet tall, that he was spare, yet athletic; that he had a mouth that looked forever as if he was about to smile. All that she saw was the eyes, which seemed to have a certain humorous something in his lurking behind a slight bashfulness. They were both young, and it followed she did not at once discern that he was solid and substantial; nor did young Steve himself see beyond the blue of her eyes, the soft yellow of her hair, the grace of her small, shapely body. Yet they passed instantly into a phase of understanding, one with the other, that left Buck Landers all but forgotten. When he spoke something of the gloomer cloud around them broke and scattered.

"Steve had the advantage of you, Mary. He arrived yesterday and I've been telling him all about you—but

"I'm going to dance right through my shoes this night," he said.

I didn't tell you anything about him. How do you like him?"

Mary colored with embarrassment. It was such a silly question.

"Why—I think he's nice," she said, avoiding the eyes of Steve, who was looking at her and smiling.

"Well, sit down, Mary, and I'll explain Steve to you," Landers said.

"Steve's father was my pal out west a long time ago. Saved my life once. After that he got married and we drifted apart. He's dead now and so is this boy's mother. In a sort of way I've been looking after Steve out of gratitude to his father and because the boy's a darned nice kid himself. I'm not as cold blooded as a lot of people think around the big town here."

"I'll say you're not," chimed in young Steve. "You've been like a father to me. You know, Miss Kennedy, he sent me through college and gave me a regular allowance like other fellows had. In fact, I'm still drawing from him every month, just the same as always. Of course, we haven't seen much of each other—Buck and I—but—"

"That's because I didn't want you in the big town till you got through that college stuff," Landers cut in, "but I don't deserve too much credit. I got a big kick helping you along for your father's sake. Besides that, I can use a lad with your brain and nerve in my business—somebody I can trust."

Landers turned to Mary and she caught the gleam of pride, of vanity, in his eye.

"I'm going to put this boy up at the top of the ladder," he told her. "I'm going to build him up to take my place and handle my affairs. I'm going to start him in by degrees and he can take a lot off my shoulders and leave for me—pleasant things."

Mary's gaze did not falter as she looked from Landers to his protégé, but her color changed swiftly, a faint rosy tinge swept her cheeks and then faded, leaving her pale. Her lips came near trembling. It was as though Buck Landers was tightening a chain around her, binding her fully to him. She had no chance to deny anything. He was acting as though they were finally pledged to each other—was making it difficult for her to act otherwise. He took out his watch and looked at it.

"Say—I've got to be getting along," he declared. "Now listen, Steve, and you, too, Mary. I'll be gone a week in Boston. Steve's new in New York, and I thought you might be able to show him around a bit of evenings. Mary, it will keep him out of mischief and he'll keep other fellows away from you. It's a big town and a tough town, Mary, my girl, and I'd feel a lot better with my boy looking over you."

Steve grinned. "You bet I'll watch over her, Buck—that's a pleasure."

Landers got his hat and came while Mary gazed at him, frankly troubled. He, however, was perfectly serene. His traveling bag, he remarked, was already over at Barney's; the crowd was going to motor up to Boston and he was filled with a spry eagerness to get at the obscure business that engaged him. He shook hands with Steve and bent over Mary to kiss her unresponsive lips briefly.

"Take good care of her, Steve," he urged the boy again in parting. "She is practically your step-mother."

A rebellious shame, too late to be of service, welled up in her breast. She had allowed Landers to misrepresent their relationship—had, by her reticence, confirmed the impression he had created. She had lacked aggressiveness to contradict him in front of his friends. She had been baffled, embarrassed. His crafty brain had outwitted her inexperience.

"He's a great chap—Buck Landers,"

Steve said, looking at Mary with a raptness that indicated that he, too, was feeling something of the same exhilaration that was affecting her.

For several seconds, it seemed they had both forgotten the presence of Buck Landers. Some natural spark, appropriate to their youth, had leaped the gap between them. Immediately there was the swift telepathy of reciprocal attraction.

MR. FARLEY HAS A DINNER TWO NIECES, LOYALTY, ABILITY A FLAG TOO CHEAP

—By Arthur Brisbane—
(Copyright, 1933, By King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

MIAMI—Miami had a big dinner party for James A. Farley, the "Roosevelt Warwick." F. B. Shurtz, owner-editor of the Miami Herald, promoted and made it a success. Six hundred listened while Mr. Farley, the only speaker, formulated Democratic doctrine for Florida Democrats.

Mr. Farley is "regular." You do not get far in New York politics without being regular. Recommendations of state leaders will be followed in the 75,500 appointments that the Democrats will hand out.

To get on one of the bright new payrolls you must have possession of "qualifications and loyalty."

Ability is necessary. But you must add loyalty to your ability or remain outside the fast-closed door.

Loyalty to what, to whom? To the Democratic party, of course, and for the new President, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

AT A SALE of "historic flags" in Paris, the flag that Marshal Foch flew from his automobile in the war sold for $160. King George's flag brought $56. General Pershing's $120 and Woodrow Wilson's $96.

That last price was too low for Europe. If Woodrow Wilson's flag had sold for half of what it cost the United States to send him and the flag abroad, it would have sold for $500,000,000. Twice that would have been saved had he stayed at home.

MIAMI possesses a real banker, Ed C. Rompf, head of the First National bank. Ever since the first estate collapse, made worse by the tornado, Mr. Rompf's bank has saved the troubled waters serenely—the only bank here that did not close.

If you heard that some contemporary of Noah's had survived the flood, with no help from the ark staying outside and swimming, you would respect him. That's what Mr. Rompf did.

Mr. Rompf believes that Florida should be free from taxation every dwelling and small farm used by men to raise their families. "No taxes, no assessments on the home" is his idea. He has told the new governor of Florida, David Siotz, that he could double the population of Florida by carrying out that idea, which has been advocated in this column for 10 years past.

FLORIDA could double its population by abolishing taxes on small farms and dwellings of moderate cost, and it could bring in hundreds of thousands from all over the country that have small, fixed incomes—retired school-teachers, policemen, firemen, government officials.

If New Jersey would adopt the plan it would draw income and population out of New York very fast.

PARIS—The year 1932 was a profitable one on the French turf for five American race horse owners, and one Argentine. William Lill-tauer won 685,148 francs. A. K. Macomber 555,533 francs. Joseph E. Widener 425,075 francs. R. B. Strassburger 422,471 francs, and Mrs. Honore Palmer 345,990 francs. A. J. Duggan of Buenos Aires earned 1,777,859 francs.

SEATTLE—When Mrs. G. L. Dow saw a young man steal two quarts of milk and a pint of cream from her back porch, she didn't bother him, thinking the youth was hungry. However, when she saw the youth enter a new sedan, she called police.

Honeymooning in the Sun

Holding court—or is it hands?—on the beach at Miami Beach, Fla., Judge Ben Shalleck, of New York, and his lovely bride, the former Lillian Roth, stage and screen star, interrupt their mutual admiration session to beam benignly at the cameraman who had tip-toed up behind them. The Shallecks are proving that a honeymoon can shine just as brilliantly even in competition with the Southern sun.

—lagging appetite

There is a reasonable way to correct this condition. Pause and reason. You know that body weakness is frequently the result of a weak blood "picture"—lowering of the red blood-cells and their hemoglobin—that are so very necessary to strength and vitality.

Then why not try S.S.S.—the proven tonic for decades? Its value has been proved by extensive scientific research and by millions of happy users.

Take S.S.S. and note the way your strength and appetite are restored. Two convenient sizes at all drug stores—the larger size is more economical. Don't permit any one to "switch" you in your determination to restore your red-blood-cells and their hemoglobin content for regaining strength.

Things look Different in COLD BLACK TYPE

"I HEAR," said the friend, "that you have just made $50,000 in the insurance business."

"Right—except for one or two slight particulars. It was real estate—not insurance. It was $75,000, not $50,000. And I didn't make it—I lost it!"

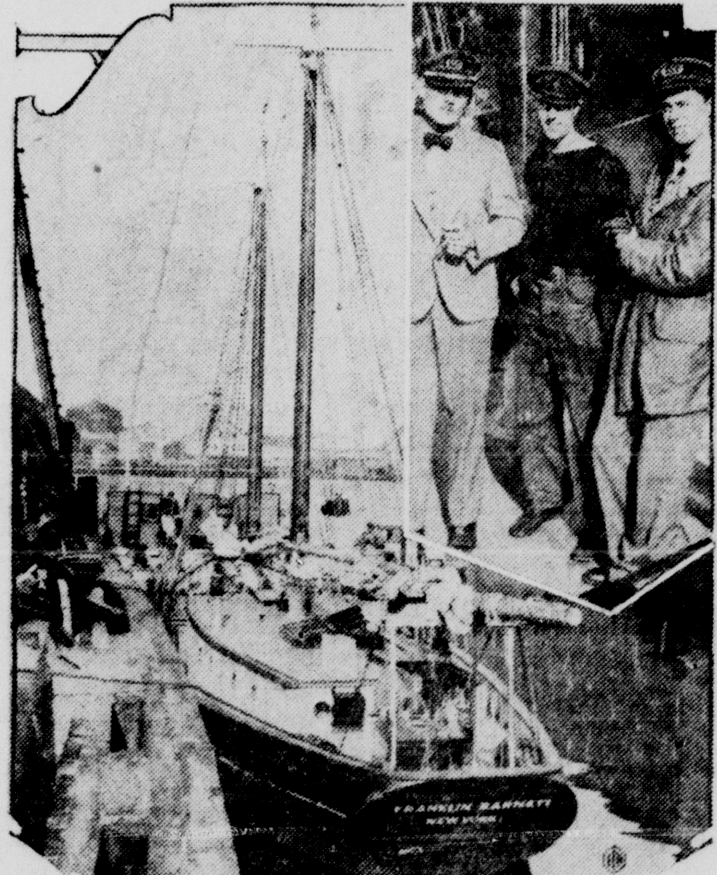

Has it ever happened to you that something you've told an acquaintance comes back, after many days so distorted that you hardly recognize it? The spoken word so changes and colors much that we say, that by the time it passes many lips only the skeleton of truth remains.

But how different it is with the printed word! That is why you can trust advertisements. Had you thought of it that way? Because the manufacturer and merchant are compelled to be accurate in type, you know that the quality of soap, ginger ale, clothing, butter or furniture you buy is as standardized as the calendar. It's all the manufacturer and retailer claim for it. It has to be!

Read the advertisements. Read them carefully, critically. Read them for profit! Read them knowing that the truth pays . . . you and the advertiser.

To Seek Treasure in Cocos

Here is the schooner "Franklin Barnett," now tied up at New York, which will sail for Cocos Island, in the Pacific, shortly on a hunt for the $60,000,000 treasure said to be buried there. Inset are three of the adventurers who will engage in the thrilling expedition. Left to right, they are: Captain Rudolph Valentine, commander of the treasure hunters; William, Than, first mate, and Clarence Conrad, second mate and chemical engineer. The treasure has been sought for years by many expeditions, but hope for its ultimate recovery has never waned.

Tilts Feature 1933 Hat Styles

Jauntiest tilts are going to jazz up spring hats if one is to judge from the first ones coming from the chic French modistes.

Hats are positively hilarious, with low, low, low in almost any and every direction that happens to be becoming.

One model reminds one exactly of Robinson Crusoe's first hat worn right on top of the head, pulled forward and down over the right eye. It comes in the heavy ridged velvet or of tiny feathers in various shades.

A new openwork straw in reseda shade has the trimming of wool embroidery to tone and is worn well down on the right side, with the shady but cleverly-curled brim in lace effect and of course, feather weight.

Even more jaunty is a small black and green speckled hat which leaves the head revealed. It has a low round crown. An upturned shape in black has circles worked in silk over practically the entire back ground.

A tambourine shawl which seems to hail from sunny Spain sits flat on the top of the head and has a pair of pommoms made from fine feathers.

A Dutch effect made of fine white linen has a perky bow in the back

GLOWING STAR CLASS

Neta Lantz was hostess at a social meeting of the Glowing Star class of the First Friends church, taught by Mrs. Walter Shallenberger, Saturday afternoon at her home, Wilson st.

Contests and games afforded pleasure. Prizes were won by Pearl Anderson and Naomi Walker. Lunch was served by Mrs. Lantz, mother of the hostess.

DIVISION 3
Divis on 3 of the Presbyterian church will meet at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday at the church.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY
Mr. and Mrs. George W. Best, Alliance, will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary on Wednesday, and will keep "open house" from 2:30 until 9 p. m. during which time they will receive their friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Best were married at North Benton. For 30 years Mr. Best was engaged in farming at Best's station, and for 20 years the couple have resided in Alliance.

MRS. BURN HOSTESS
Mrs. Arthur Brian carried off the honors in the bridge games at a gathering of club associates Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George W. Burn, Cleveland st. Lunch was served after the games. In two weeks the members will meet again.

D. OF A. TO MEET
Plymouth council No. 182, Daughters of America, will hold a meeting at 8 p. m. Tuesday at the hall, East State st.

A social will follow the business session. Members are asked to attend and bring lunch.

CARRIE BARGE SOCIETY
Members of the Carrie Barge society will hold their regular meeting at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Ralph Miller, South Lincoln ave.

Refuse to Consider Release of Gandhi

LONDON, Feb. 13.—There can be no consideration of the release from prison to Mahatma Gandhi, Sir Samuel Hoare, secretary for India, told the house of commons today, until the government has convincing reasons to believe his release would not be followed by revival of the civil disobedience campaign.

The same policy applies to others of his followers.

Mrs. LUCY COTTON THOMAS

Declaring that the allowance of her daughter, Lucetta, was insufficient for the girl's needs, Mrs. Lucy Cotton Thomas, former stage beauty, recently petitioned the New York Surrogate Court to have the amount increased from $3,000 to $3,800 per month. To the ordinary mortal who must live on a lot less than that amount for a whole year, the situation may seem a bit puzzling, but the affidavit of Mrs. Thomas, itemizing her daughter's "absolutely necessary" expenditures for a single month, explains why $3,000 is not enough for a 7-year-old child to live on for four weeks. A few of the items are shown above. The trust fund from which the income is derived was created by Lucetta's grandfather, Charles Thomas, for her father Edward Russell Thomas, noted publisher and sportsman, who died in 1926. Mrs. Thomas has been married and divorced twice since. Surrogate James A. Delehanty denied Mrs. Thomas' petition for the increased allowance, ruling that Lucetta must balance her budget by cutting some of her expenditures. Mrs. Thomas averred that she cannot help her daughter, as she must struggle along on $20,000 a year herself.

The trust fund from which the income is derived was created by Lucetta's grandfather, Charles Thomas, for her father Edward Russell Thomas, noted publisher and sportsman, who died in 1926. Mrs. Thomas has been married and divorced twice since. Surrogate James A. Delehanty denied Mrs. Thomas' petition for the increased allowance, ruling that Lucetta must balance her budget by cutting some of her expenditures. Mrs. Thomas averred that she cannot help her daughter, as she must struggle along on $20,000 a year herself.

Mrs. LUCY COTTON THOMAS

Declaring that the allowance of her daughter, Lucetta, was insufficient for the girl's needs, Mrs. Lucy Cotton Thomas, former stage beauty, recently petitioned the New York Surrogate Court to have the amount increased from $3,000 to $3,800 per month. To the ordinary mortal who must live on a lot less than that amount for a whole year, the situation may seem a bit puzzling, but the affidavit of Mrs. Thomas, itemizing her daughter's "absolutely necessary" expenditures for a single month, explains why $3,000 is not enough for a 7-year-old child to live on for four weeks. ## 2 MEN ABDUCT SON OF WEALTH

Charles Boettcher, Friend of Lindbergh, Held for $60,000 Ransom

Chen-Newton, investment brokers here, and has other widely varied interests.
Several hours after the kidnapping there was no indication Boettcher had been released or that the kidnapers had communicated with the family.

The note, typewritten on a piece of white paper, read in part:
"Don't notify the police. Tell Charles Boettcher he better get $60,000 ransom. He better do business. Follow instructions. Notify us through a personal ad in the newspapers. Stay ready to come home. Mabel when you're ready. Don't forget the Lindbergh baby would still be alive if the ransom had been paid."

Mrs. Boettcher told police the men appeared out of the darkness as Boettcher alighted from the car. "Come here, Charlie—and stick up your hands," one of the men ordered. "Do what you're told and everything will be all right."

Mrs. Boettcher who had remained in the car said she sensed the situation and told her husband: "This is a holdup, don't resist."

Automobile Passes
The kidnapers were started when an automobile came around a corner and its lights reflected in the driveway.

"Put your hands down until that car gets by," one of the men ordered Boettcher, who complied.
The car was believed to have been that of the unidentified man who notified the domestic in a home next door that a kidnapping or robbery was taking place in the Boettcher driveway.

Airplane Stunt Ends In Tragedy

(By Associated Press)
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 13.—Two airplane stunt men, each eager to outdo the other, leaped from an airplane 10,000 feet above Los Angeles eastside airport Sunday. Each carried two parachutes.
After coasting awhile with one open, they cut loose and plummeted toward the ground. The idea was to see which man could come nearer the earth before opening his second chute.
When "Spud" Manning, was about 1,800 feet from the ground he opened his chute and floated down safely.
But Harold H. (Bud) Braden, whizzed on down. Spectators grew tense. About 100 feet from the ground his chute opened.
It was too late. Braden was killed as he hit the ground.

REPEAL ACTION UP THIS WEEK

Political Observers Say Proposal Has "Good Chance" to Pass

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, Feb. 13.—With what political observers consider a "good chance" to pass, a proposal to submit repeal of state constitutional prohibition to the voters will be acted upon by the legislature this week.

The measure will reach the house of representatives Tuesday. If the necessary three-fifths majority is recorded for it there, it will be hurried along to the senate.

Favored by Judiciary
Drawn by Rep. John F. McCrystal (D) of Erie county, the bill will enter the lower chamber stamped with a recommendation for passage by the house judiciary committee.

Anti-prohibition leaders were not so optimistic today about the probable fate of another bill on Tuesday's calendar—that to abolish the state prohibition department.
Gov. White and other administration chiefs have not launched out in opposition to the proposal for submission of constitutional prohibition to a vote, but a definite stand has been taken toward the bill relating to the prohibition department.

The chief executive, it was recalled, threatened several weeks ago to veto "any repealer before the national law is modified in congress."

Faced by the house ten days ago, enactment of a code for the orderly administration of the bill proposing liquidation of financially embarrassed building and loan associations will reach the senate tonight.

Propose Education Changes
Also on the senate calendar tonight are a resolution and bill proposing changes in the state education department. Sen. J. G. Lowery, (R) of Muskingum county, is author of both.

Repeal of the constitutional amendment requiring appointment of the director of education by the governor is proposed in the resolution.

The bill calling for creation of a state board of education which would appoint the director.

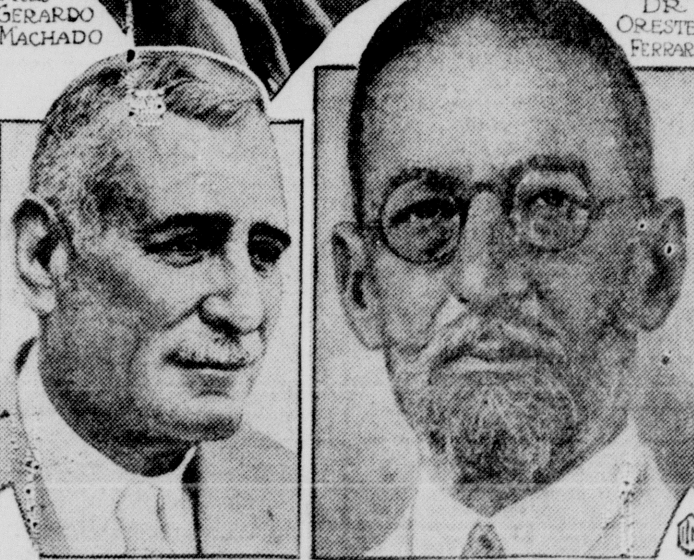

Meantime, although time for the first hearing had not been set, Chairman Hugh E. Addison (D) of Franklin county, said his special rush to probe Rep. Forest W. House investigating committee would hold's charge that he was offered a bribe to withdraw a bill.

The Guernsey county Republican, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Senecaaville, said he was offered $1,000 by Edward Shively of Cambridge to "forget" a bill he introduced calling for reduction of interest on chattel loans. Shively denied the charge.

LIBERTY, Mo.—Farmers here have formed the "Farmers and Merchants Anti-Theft Association" to combat chicken thieves. Rewards of $50 have been posted for conviction of any one stealing poultry from a member of the association.

Revolt Spectre Looms in Cuba As Machado Foes Prepare Coup

Exiled Leaders of Ill-Fated 1931 Rebellion Completing Plans for New Uprising Under Banner of ex-President Menocal.

Revolution against the iron dictatorship of President Gerardo Machado of Cuba seems imminent as reports going the rounds in Havana persist that exiled foes of the President have completed their plans to return to the homeland. One rumor that caused grave concern in official circles is to the effect that Mario Menocal, Jr., son of the exiled ex-President, is already in Cuba, paving the way for his father's comeback. The elder Menocal, who was exiled after he had been captured following the collapse of the 1931 revolt, is now in Florida with other revolutionary leaders who were exiled at the same time. Among them is Colonel Carlos Mendez, who was General Menocal's chief of staff during the ill-fated Oriente Province revolt. According to Machado foes, the President is ruling in flat defiance of the will of the people, who, they say, would welcome a change of government. From the same source stories of Macho's tyranny are propagated through the United States and Central America, where many refugees from Cuba are waiting the signal to return to their native land. According to the opposition, the recent censorship clamped down on the press in Cuba by Dr. Orestes Ferrara, President Machado's Secretary of State, is designed to prevent details of Machado's alleged reign of terror from seeping outside the country.

Last Period Rally Gives South High 28-23 Win Over Quakers

THE DAY IN SPORTS

RULES COMMITTEE ACTS CHANGES GRID CODE

THE NATIONAL football rules committee has completed its annual study of the playing code and adopted only two changes in the regulations for 1933.

Out of their three-day gathering at Green Hill farms, just outside of Philadelphia, the rules-makers came forth with these alterations:

First—Elimination of the side line play through a new zoning system.

Second—A tightening of the restrictions against clipping so that this practice virtually is legislated out of the game.

There were the two major developments of the discussions but committee members also authorized some editorial changes in the rules in the interests of clarity; appointed a special sub-committee to receive and consider all suggestions for rules changes; and went definitely on record in favor of limiting future changes in the rules to those which will simplify the game without changing its character.

OF THE TWO alterations made in the rules, the more radical was that designed to eliminate the side line play, bane of teams marching goalward who find themselves obliged to waste a down to bring the ball into better position.

To prevent this, the rules committee decided to establish side zones, ten yards in width, on either side of the field. Whenever the ball becomes dead within these zones, it will be moved to a point ten yards from the side line, without time out being called. At the same time, the committee decided that when the ball goes out of bounds it shall be brought in three yards from the side line instead of 15 yards as heretofore.

The rule against clipping was altered to make it illegal for a player to run into the back of an opponent not carrying the ball, adding to the previous rule against throwing or clipping the body across the back of the leg or legs of the opponent below the knee in the interest of stricter enforcement of the rule, the penalty was reduced from 25 yards to 15, after committee members had pointed out that the heavier penalty led some officials to hesitate about calling it.

MANY OTHER suggested changes were considered by the committee but none was adopted. There was some surprise that the rules-makers failed to tighten the restrictions against forward passing since this had been recommended in the annual report to the National Collegiate A. A. in December.

However, suggestions along this line as well as many others were turned over to the sub-committee on football rules changes, which was authorized to study all suggested changes in the rules, even to the extent of having them tried out in actual scrimmage, in advance of consideration by the full committee.

HINTZ STARS AS MASSILLON WINS

Youngstown Rayen Loses To Stark Countians By 43-34 Margin

YOUNGSTOWN, Feb. 13.—Massillon High defeated Youngstown Rayen 43 to 34 in a battle full of action Saturday night.

Hintz at forward and Johnston at guard were the prime factors in the Massillon victory, along with some fine team play that aided them in securing shots from short range. The two accounted for 29 points, with Hintz getting the big half. Summary:

Youngstown Defense Too Much For Salem In Listless Battle Here

Play of a formerly brilliant Salem High hardwood quintet lapsed into the mediocre as the Quakers dropped a 28-23 verdict to South High of Youngstown in a close but only fairly interesting battle at the Salem High gymnasium Saturday night.

A last-quarter rally in which the stout Youngstown defense held the Stonemen helpless while South forwards tossed in three field goals for six points decided the issue.

Salem led at the end of the first period and at the half but was completely outplayed in closing periods.

Quakers Disappoint Fans
To those fans who had watched as the Quakers displayed fine form to outclass East Liverpool and Warren basketballers on consecutive nights last week the exhibition against the Southmen was particularly disappointing. Not meaning to detract credit for the triumph for Coach Russell Ashbaugh's quintet, it nevertheless must and cannot be denied that the Stonemen played far from their best game against Youngstown.

A stirring last-period stand in which Youngstown completely mastered Salem was in the main responsible for the downfall of the Quaker combination. Play in the first three quarters was nip and tuck, Salem leading for the greater part, but there was nothing to it but South in the fourth.

Culler Cages First Goal
A long shot by Captain Frankie Culler gave Salem a 2-0 edge in the first minute of play but South, on a fielder by its skipper, a blonde named Johnson who played a classy game throughout, and fouls by Baer, went ahead, 4-2. Pauline's long shot knotted the count but South again took the lead when Welsh tallied a free throw. Purn Sidinger's accurate heave from the side put Salem in front, 6-5, as the period closed.

The second quarter was almost a duplication of the first, with each team alternating in the lead. Wayne Sidinger connected for one field goal on four straight foul shots for six points during the quarter while a gratis tosses by Kaercher and Culler brought Salem's total to eight, giving them a two-point, 14-12, surplus at halftime.

South Steps Out
Thus far neither aggregation had flashed any power to tell the home folks about but action in the third period proved even less interesting with the visitors for the first time gaining any apparent edge. They outscored Salem, 9-7, to advance to the front by a solitary tally, the

End of Carnera-Schaff Bout

Here's the final curtain on the bout between Primo Carnera, giant Italian heavyweight, and Ernie Schaaf, of Boston, protege of Champion Jack Sharkey, at Madison Square Garden, New York. Referee Cavanaugh is shown picking up the unconscious form of Schaaf after he had been knocked out in the 13th round, while Carnera hurries to his assistance. After futile efforts to revive the stricken gladiator, Schaaf's seconds removed him to the Polyclinic Hospital.

Ashland College Point-Per-Minute Machine

ASHLAND, Feb. 10.—A point-per-minute machine is the Ashland College combine. Not only that, it is one of the best teams in the state, having lost only two games. Wooster stopped the Purple Flyers twice.

In the ten first games the Flyers have rampaged towards the basket at the rate of better than a point-a-minute. They have scored 449 markers.

One of the reasons for this unprecedented success is Ralph Clelan, 6-foot, 6-inch center, who has scored 136 points or better than 13 per game in the first ten contests. Clelan is a candidate for all-Ohio honors this season. If he makes an all-Ohio mythical team it won't be a new sensation for him. He was twice named All-Pennsylvania center while at Lewistown, Pa., high school.

A second big reason for Ashland's high scoring is Berlin Shaffer, 6-foot, 3-inch guard. Shaffer is the highest scoring guard in the Ohio conference. He has made 102 points in the first ten games. Whenever opposing teams concentrate their defense on Clelan, Shaffer usually goes into a scoring spree. Shaffer came to Ashland from Harstide, O., where he played in a class B High School.

Earl Berry, Coshocton, and John Boyer, Myersdale, Pa., are two other six-footers who fit nicely into the highly offensive machine of the Purple Flyers. Berry is a forward and Boyer a guard. Coach Schmuck rates him as the best guard in the Ohio Conference this season.

The team is led by a hometown lad, Gerald Emmons, forward who starred with Ashland High school, four years ago. Emmons, 5 feet, 11 inches, is the only member of the starting quint who is not over six feet tall.

RISK TACKLES LEVINSKY AGAIN

Heavyweight Clash Tops Week's Fistic Menu; Clash Friday

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—The third heavyweight duel between Johnny Risko of Cleveland and King Levinsky of Chicago tops a none-too-robust national boxing program this week.

The veteran Risko and his youthful rival will battle ten rounds in Madison Square Garden Friday night with Levinsky favored Risko, however, already holds two decisions over the Chicagoan. What is more, Johnny will be fighting in the garden where he always has been at his best.

Tommy Loughran, Philadelphia veteran, and Walter Cobb of Baltimore open the program in a ten round heavyweight match at Philadelphia tonight. Fidel Labarba, of Los Angeles, meets Mose Butch of Pittsburgh, in the Pennsylvania City also tonight.

Tomorrow, Midget Wolgast of Philadelphia, recognized in some states as flyweight champion, tackles Nick Montana of Lakewood, N. J., in an eight round non-title go at Plainfield, N. J.

AN IDEAL LOCATION FOR ROOMERS

THIS HOUSE is located between N. Broadway and N. Lincoln Ave.; fine residential section. It is just the spot to get school teachers to room with you. House has eight rooms; four bedrooms and bath on second floor. Strictly modern with hardwood floors. First-class six-car garage, which will also bring in an income. At one time, this property sold for $7,500. For certain reasons, we have a price on it for a short time only of $4,200. Don't forget that the garage should bring back an income of at least $20.00 to $25.00 per month; and you could take roomers in the home which should pay considerably more than the garage, so that the income would be handsome as well as having a place to live. Come in and let me show you this property.

Red Meeting That Aided Hitler

A view of the speakers' platform at the monster Communist demonstration held in Berlin a few days before Adolf Hitler, Nazi leader, was appointed Chancellor of Germany. The tremendous turnout at the Red meeting is said to have influenced President von Hindenburg in his selection of the Fascist leader as head of the Reich.

TODAY'S RADIO PROGRAMS

The Three X sisters, who disappeared temporarily from radio with the conclusion of their WABC-CBS series, start up again at 6:30 p. m. this evening with three broadcasts a week on WJZ-NBC, Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. Ted Husing, coming back to the northern clime, found his four weeks vacation in Florida wasn't all vacation. He took time out to make three race broadcasts and hopped over to Nassau to announce the first WABC-CBS pickup from the Bahamas Islands.

Henry Hadley's one-act opera, "A Night in Old Paris" is to have its premiere over NBC on Washington's birthday. Senator C. C. Dill of Washington State will talk on "Silver" in the public institute WABC-CBS Saturday night.

Try These Tonight

Escapes Police

COLUMBUS, Feb. 13.—Barefoot and hattle s. a Negro, who, police said, was wanted in connection with the slaying of an Alexandria (Va.) policeman, escaped amid bullets here when an attempt was made to arrest him.

He is William Kidd, 40.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—A stray cow jumbled traffic and caused several near accidents here before Motorcycle Policeman John Mowman finally caught and locked it in an automobile garage while he found its owner. The jersey had escaped from a loading chute at the stock yards and wandered about the streets for several hours.

THEATER Attractions

TONIGHT IS THE NIGHT with an excellent cast composed of Fredric March, Claudette Colbert, Alison Skipworth, Arthur Byron and Paul Cavanaugh and taken from that most amusing story, "The Queen Was in the Parlor" by Noel Coward concludes its two day run today at the State theater.

Interesting Plot
Most cleverly done, is this story with the brilliance and wit that Coward always puts into his numerous plays. It tells the interesting story of a young woman who has tossed away the responsibilities of a kingdom for a fling at Paris, and a young Parisian who insists on sharing the fling with her. They lead each other a hectic chase through the pleasure spots of the capital, but their rapidly growing romance is stopped rather abruptly when Miss Colbert learns that the king and his brother have been killed and that she, Nadva, must return to assume the rulership.

In her native country a year later Nadva is preparing for her wedding to the prince of a neighboring country. Sabien (March) is in the crowd that watches for the bride party—suddenly Sabien sees a man aiming a pistol at the queen—he knocks the pistol from the man's hand.

The queen and the commoner are reunited but will the royalists allow a marriage between royalty and a mere commoner. As for the cast—March, the winner of the Academy of Arts award for acting this year, and the lovely Miss Colbert have never had roles more suited to them—they make a most romantic pair.

"A BILL OF DIVORCEMENT" a film eagerly awaited by fans and classed as one of the best films of the year with John Barrymore, Katharine Hepburn, Billie Burke, David Manners, Paul Cavanaugh and Henry Stephenson, composing its unusually fine cast comes for a two day engagement at the State theater Tuesday.

Miss Hepburn's Debut
In movies and she is said to be really splendid in a role that is extremely difficult. She is cast as a seventeen year old girl engaged to Manners who suddenly learns that Barrymore, her father, has returned from the asylum for the insane. To her still greater horror she learns the insanity is not due to war shock, as she thought, but to heredity.

Billie Burke, long a favorite on the stage and widow of Flo Ziegfeld is cast as the mother, a rather thankless role that done by a less capable actress might be unimpressive—done by Miss Burke it keys the whole beautiful tragedy.

As for Barrymore—his vivid portrayal of the insane man who returns semi-sane to his home after seventeen years is equal to the very best of the distinguished Barrymore clan. His uncertain walk alone marks his characterization among the notable ones of the entire year.

Six New Cardinals Will Be Appointed

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 13.—The Osservatore Romano announced this evening that six new cardinals would be created at a consistory March 13, among them Pietro Fumasoni-Biondi, apostolic delegate to the United States and Mexico.

Jean Marie Rodriguez Villeneuve, archbishop of Quebec, will also be elevated to the cardinalate, the newspaper says.

The others are Archbishop Innitzer of Vienna, Archbishop Posa of Turin, Archbishop Della Costa and Florence, and Archbishop Dele, papal nuncio to Rumania.

Here and There About Town

To Sing In Opera

Harold Matthews, of Columbus, who spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Matthews, Madison ave. returned to this city Sunday afternoon.

Matthews, who is known in musical circles of the city, is a member of the Columbus Civic Opera company, which will present the opera "Carmen" next May. Matthews will have a leading tenor part.

He is first tenor soloist in the choir of the First Methodist Episcopal church, Columbus.

Returns From London

Edwin A. Tomlinson, New York City, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Tomlinson, West State st.

Tomlinson recently returned from London, England, where he was located for five years. He is divisional manager for the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, and will be located in New York City.

His brother, Frederick Tomlinson, Greensburg, Pa., also spent the weekend here.

Hear Miss Stahl

A large number of people attended the union church service Sunday evening at the Methodist Episcopal church at which Miss Margaret Stahl, prominent talented reader, presented the drama, "The Man Who Forgot," by James Hay, Jr.

This service was sponsored by the Salem Ministerial association. Miss Stahl is one of the foremost dramatic interpreters.

Practice Drill Work

Canton Salem No. 11, Patriarchs Militant, will have drill rehearsals at its regular meetings in the future. It was announced today.

This is to create interest in the work and raise the standard of efficiency in anticipation of the department council session in July at New Philadelphia.

At County Meet

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Getz, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Ward and Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Detrow, attended a county meeting of Knights of P. H. S. Saturday evening at Parghoy.

Grand and supreme officers of the order from Ohio and Virginia gave talks. An interesting program was presented.

Beat La Dietrich

If you think the new trouser fad, made popular by Marlene Dietrich, movie star, is something new, here's where you're proved wrong. Above is Dr. Mary Walker, world-famous feminist, who wore masculine attire two decades ago, with legal permission, at that. Dr. Walker was a surgeon in the Union Army during the Civil War. She was also the first woman to study law, and was an original pioneer of the suffragist movement. She is shown in morning clothes.

Co-Ed Charged With Kidnaping

A dramatic meeting in Los Angeles police station as Mrs. Mary B. Skeele (left) was brought face to face with Louella Pearl Hammer, 28-year-old music teacher, of Pasadena, and Frank Howard, who are accused of kidnaping her. Miss Hammer, a former co-ed at the University of Southern California where Mrs. Skeele's husband, Dr. Walter F. Skeele, is Dean, was held after police had compared her typewriter lettering with that on the ransom notes. Mrs. Skeele was released after the kidnapers had held her 24 hours in an attempt to collect $10,000 ransom. Inset is a photo of Miss Hammer as a varsity student. According to police, the couple confessed the kidnaping, saying they needed the money to wed.
